

PRESS RELEASE

Efor Expands into the Netherlands to Accelerate Growth in Northern Europe

Amsterdam, September 16, 2026 – Efor, a global leader in Quality & Compliance for the Life Sciences industry, today announced the opening of a new office in the Netherlands. By establishing a local presence in one of Europe's leading pharmaceutical, biotechnology and medical device ecosystems, the Group aims to work more closely with companies operating in the Dutch market while continuing to expand across Northern Europe

Supporting Life Sciences companies closer to their operations

This new presence will enable Efor to develop a deeper understanding of the Dutch market and its specific requirements, while working more closely with its clients' operations and teams.

Closer to Life Sciences operations, the new office will enable Efor to:

- respond more precisely to the needs of clients operating in the Dutch market;
- collaborate directly with local operational teams;
- deploy its expertise in Quality Management, Commissioning, Qualification & Validation (CQV), Computer System Validation (CSV), and Quality Assurance.

Efor's local presence will also be backed by the Group's international capabilities. With more than 3,200 employees across 19 countries, Efor can draw on its global network of experts to mobilize the right capabilities based on the specific needs of each project.

The Netherlands: a major European Life Sciences ecosystem

At the intersection of innovation, science and engineering, the Netherlands is home to a particularly dynamic Life Sciences ecosystem, bringing together industry, universities, research centers and healthcare organizations in close collaboration.

Efor intends to become an active part of this ecosystem by building long-term relationships with both Dutch and international Life Sciences companies operating in the country.

"Our expansion into the Netherlands is first and foremost about being closer to our clients. Establishing a local presence will allow us to better understand the needs and specificities of the Dutch market while bringing the full breadth of Efor's international expertise to our clients. Our ambition is to build our presence progressively, with a local team and an approach tailored to the expectations of Life Sciences companies in the country. The Netherlands also represents an important milestone in our continued expansion across Northern Europe," said Julie Marion, Head of Operations Europe at Efor.

Building a local team and expanding across the region

Efor has begun building a local team to support the development of its activities in the Netherlands. The team will combine expertise from across the Group with locally recruited professionals who bring a strong understanding of the Dutch market and Life Sciences ecosystem.

Through this new location, Efor continues to expand its international network with the same approach: combining local proximity, technical expertise and the ability to mobilize capabilities across its global organization.

The opening in the Netherlands marks another milestone in Efor's European growth strategy and reflects the Group's ambition to establish itself as a leading global Quality & Compliance partner for the Life Sciences industry.

About Efor Group

Founded in 2013, Efor Group is now a leading international player specializing in quality and compliance for the healthcare industries. With more than 3,200 employees across 19 countries, the Group supports global leaders in the pharmaceutical, biotechnology, and medical device sectors in ensuring the compliance of their manufacturing sites and accelerating the delivery of innovative therapeutic solutions to patients.

Its mission is to remove technical and regulatory barriers so that innovation can reach patients faster, under the highest standards of safety and reliability.

Committed to becoming a global leader while remaining true to its founding values, Efor Group fully integrates social and environmental priorities into its operations. Through concrete initiatives that support society, sustainability, and innovation, the Group pursues a long-term growth vision guided by excellence, commitment, and collaboration.

efor.com

For medias Inquiries

Floriane CARRET

+33 6 89 42 79 02

floriane.carret@efor-group.com

Committed to Excellence